CURRY'S GOOD WORK.

The New York Sun writes up Governor Curry as a man who is looking for uproar and excitement all the time and is unsuited to the position of civil governor. Says the Sun, "Civil office probably frets him. Likes vicissitude and excitement. It is a long time between wars. Routine palls, etc."

The truth is that Capt. Curry's administration as governor of New Mexico has been marked by the quieting down of most of the factional disturbance and malice that were so evident during previous administrations. He has possessed the friendship and support of the people of every county in the territory and to a considerable extent of the members of both political parties.

Under some of his predecessors New Mexico has been sectionalized, and some of the previous governors did little to consolidate the territory to equalize its development. Governor Curry, on the contrary, has seemed to have a comprehensive view of the needs, the resources, and the character of the people of every section. The people generally have felt that he was trying to do the square and right thing, and the prevailing opinion is that he has done much during his term to clear up the political situation in the territory and to advance its material, moral, and intellectual progress.

It is to be regretted that he finds it necessary to give up his office. His appointment was a happy choice on the part of President Roosevelt, and his influence in New Mexico has been for progress and improvement.—El Paso Herald.

END OF MUCKRAKING REFORMERS.

The result of the recent elections the country over were not encouraging to muckrakers and pseudo reformers.

The part has been overplayed and the voters of the country are sick and tired of the unfounded charges—so much so that when there exists substantial truth in allegations they class them with the fakes and the sensational untruths that the nation has been surfeited with.

It is the old story of the cry of "wolf!" "wolf!" until no attention paid by those who hear it uttered. Then again, so many men of good repute have been assailed without rhyme or reason, the masses of the people are full of resentment at the mud-slingers who spare not even the highest and the purest of our citizens in their attacks.

This was evidenced in a remarkably striking way in the New York City election when foul slanders upon the fair fame of the metropolis' false charges against political opponents were concocted, published and circulated to obtain a political advantage in a mere municipal contest.

The citizens of New York could not and would not permit such charges to go unrebuked and the immense plurality piled up for Judge Gaynor was in great part owing to this muckraking by his opponents.

Municipal favoritism and possibly municipal grafting may exist in some of our cities, but in the cities in which it does exist the voters have it always in their own power to eliminate it.

True reform is never attained through false charges or unfounded accusations and there is no political ring or political machine that was ever constructed that can control or suppress political opinion when it is aroused by sincere men, in a systematic manner, working upon actual facts of corruption.

Good men may be injured by false accusations, but guilty men can never survive in public contests when attacked persistently, determinedly and intelligently with the proofs of official misconduct.

The recent elections, both in New York and San Francisco, eliminated sensational muckraking, but they in no manner gave license to grafters, rings or machines.

However strong such combinations may seem to be; however secure those composing them may imagine themselves, they are ever upon the verge of exposure and overthrow.

They are never safe, but always in danger.

In the hour of their seeming crowning triumph, nemesis stalks them and disaster is surely before them.

SENSIBLE VIEWS.

If the sensible views expressed by the Railway Business association, at its recent meeting in New York, were more generally prevalent, it would be far better both for the railroads and their patrons.

As a general thing, the men who are in local charge of railroad business want to do the square thing by the people; and as a rule the people want to do the square thing by the railroads.

But the trouble is that too often railroad affairs are not controlled by the men who are in close touch with the people, but by officials who are out of sympathy with local feelings and ignorant of local conditions. Thus gradually there grows up a sentiment of distrust and too often of enmity, and agitators and demagogues find it easy to use such conditions to their own advantage.

If the views so forcibly expressed by the Railway Business association were more generally shared by high railroad officials, much of the unwise and injurious legislation of recent years would have been avoided, for it is safe to say that back of every piece of repressive railroad legislation is a long story of injustice and refusal to satisfy reasonable demands.

SYRIANS ENTITLED TO RIGHTS OF CITIZENSHIP

Washington, Nov. 12.—Secretary Nagel of the department of commerce and labor, in discussing the functions of the naturalization division of his department, has taken a position opposite from that embodied in a recent ruling of Chief Campbell of that division on the naturalization of Syrians. Mr. Nagel declares that the function of the naturalization division is to present facts and not to attempt to enforce any particular interpretation of the law. Mr. Nagel says there was no reason for any action on the part of the department antagonistic to any race of immigrants. Court decisions have been rendered in states as far apart as California, Louisiana and Rhode Island favorable to the Syrians.
